Timeless Medical Systems Announces the Release of the Timeless Project Management System

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Charlottetown, PE, Canada - February 28, 2008 – Timeless Medical Systems today announced the release of the Timeless Project Management System. The Timeless Project Management System is a full featured, online project management system that allows any organization to easily collaborate with other team members online, at any time, from anywhere in the world.

All communication is conducted instantly, in real time, no matter the location of your team members. The system is designed to help facilitate communication by allowing instant communication, file sharing, memos, etc. Calendar functions, which include the ability to set milestones and deadlines, allow everyone to stay on top of current events and deliverables.

The Timeless Project Management System was developed in conjunction with a Canadian Research University. By working closely together, Timeless has ensured all of the functionality required by professional research groups has been included in the abilities of the System.

The System has been built to be very simple to use and consists of an intuitive graphical user interface and navigation menu. It is very easy to share resources with other members of a project team. Literally any type of file can be posted, sent or shared with other team members. This includes any word document, power point document, acrobat .pdf, audio, video and other such files. Files can be shared between as many, or as few, members of the team as requested.

“Timeless Medical Systems is very pleased to announce the public release of the Timeless Project Management System,” stated John Rowe, President. “The Timeless Project Management System brings simplicity to managing complex projects across the office or across the country. Designed to be used by organizations of any type, large or small, the Timeless Project Management System helps to keep any project on track.”

The Timeless Project Management System is a Canadian product. All information housed within the system is hosted in Canada by Timeless Medical Systems Secure Servers. Timeless has extensive experience housing secure and sensitive information having housed hundreds of terabytes of critical data for over 500 companies, while performing millions of backups.

Timeless Medical Systems has extensive experience dealing with information security. Timeless has a myriad of Healthcare products that all comply with Canadian health, US HIPAA, FDA 510(K), Joint Commission and other international regulations. All of these products are also browser based, using secure, encrypted access to accommodate multiple authenticated users.
